Parental Rights Are Under Attack

What's Happening in Michigan

- January 10th Education Committee meeting to start registering homeschool children at minimum, on the way to mandated visits and overbearing regulations from the State.
- Rep. Matt Koleszar(D) is the chair of the education committee and is on board with strict laws on Homeschool Families, including mandated visits by CPS, licensed social worker, law enforcement, therapist, etc.
- Rep. Jaime Greene (R) is the minority vice chair and is actively fighting on the behalf of families who choose how to educate their children, including Homeschooling.
- Senator Stephanie Chang (D) is on the senate side, who back in 2015 introduced draconian measures to document, register, track, and monitor Homeschool families.
- This ultimately could skip committee and head to the floor for a vote where it has a very good chance of passing and dramatically affecting families across Michigan.
